Miss Jenny Landsmann of this city has been einging in opera at Mian, at the Teatro Carcano. The musical papers praise her very warmly, and assure us that she achieved a genuine success. She mode her debut be Orshai in Lucrezia Borpua. We read in Il Paleoscenico that in the brindisi she "raised the audience to an extraordinary pitch of enthusiasm, and was unanimously called to the footlights."

Mr. Henry F. Chorley, the Well-Known English orlife, amounces his purpose of writing a "biography of Rossini with reference to his art." He says: "This project has been present to me for more years than it is now amusing for me to count. My admiration of his gening has been indicated in every work or paragraph on the subject which I have deliberately or hour by hour offered to the public. Some courage (or impertmence, it may be thought,) was required on the part of an untried man to write what I wrote, some thirty years ago, in comparison of Rossin's operas with those of Mozart." THE COLORED MEMBER FROM LOUISIANA.

The Boston Post's Washington correspondent describes the Hon. J. Willis Menard of Louisiana, thus: Menard is a dingy mulatto, 30 years of age, and of medium stature. He speaks fluently, but incoherently, and proposes to be a politician of no mean pretensions. He says he is the grandson of Gen. Menard, who emigrated from the Province of Louisiana to Illinois before that State bethe Province of Louisiana to Himois before that State became a member of the Union. Menard labored on a farm in Southern Hilmois until he was 19, when he removed to the northern part of the State. There he worked during the Summer months, and attended school during Winter. In 1859 he entered Liberta College, Onio, where he remained until 1861, when he visited Canada, returning to the United States in 1863. He entered the army as hospital steward in this city, but remained only a few months, when he was assigned a desk in the Immigration Bureau of the Interior Department. The prejudice exhibited toward him in his official position soon induced him to resign, and disgusted with the Government, he sailed for British Honduras. Here he was employed by the British Honduras Company to make an exploration of the country, which he did to the catisfaction of the Government. He next visited Janaics and Hayti, returning to New-York in 1865. Here he remained but a short time, and again shipped for New-Orleans, where he arrived in September, and, as he says, commenced at once to organize the Republican party of the South. He avows himself a Radical of the Wendell Phillips school, and says he has no use for milk and water men like Fessenden and Trumbull.

A MODERN GUNPOWDER PLOT.

A rumor has gained considerable credence and a wide circulation that the "Whisky Ring" were about to either fire or blow up the United States Court Buildings in Chambers st., for the purpose of destroying important evidence against prominent members of that Ring;

tant evidence against prominent members of that Ring; and, to give color to the rumor, it was further stated that a goard was stationed in the edifice at nights; that all the interior room doors were left open, and that an immense and savage dog had the run of the place, to give timely notice of the advent of intruders.

Upon inquiry it seems that the only foundation for this rumor is that a guard has been stationed in the edifice every right for years past, and that the "savage" dog belongs to the guard. The destruction of the records in question would not benefit the parties whom they concern an lota, as all the essential documents could be reproduced at very short notice; but, documents lost or found, the probabilities are that the "Whisky Ring" will remain intact and potent in the future as in the past, and that the best protection to the members in that "Ring" from the many who affect to be out of it, is in the preservation of "all the essential documents." No member of the Whisky Ring is yet so poor but that some prater of Pecksniffian morality is prepared to do him reverence.

SHOCKING FIGHT IN A LIQUOR STORE.

William Driscoll and Patrick Haggerty entered the liquor store of James Norris of No. 647 Wash ington-st. last evening, and soon became engaged in a difficulty with the bartender, John Tucker, during which one of the men caught a boiler of hot water from the stove and threw the contents over Tucker, scalding him very badly about the head and face. Tucker then seized a hatchet and dealt his assailants several blows on their heads, causing bad scalp wounds. The combatants left the store soon after the assault, and no arrests were made.

STABBING AFFRAY IN CANNON-ST.

Early last evening Cornelius Bourns, residing at No. 67 Lewis-st., while standing at the corner of Cannon and Rivington-sts., was approached by Robert Barkley, who, with scarcely a word of warning, stabbed Bargley, who, with scarcely a work of warming, seasons him in the hip, causing a dangerous wound. Bourns was taken to the residence of a friend, No. 62 Cannon-st, and attended by a surgeon. Barkley, who lives at No. 18 Lewis-st., was at once taken into custody and locked up in the Dehneey-st. The old saw about the "slip between the cup and the lip" has a fresh illustration in The Atlantic Monthly for January. The American Watch Company advertised "No watches retailed by the Company,"—that is they wished to advertise this, but, by some fatality, very amonying but not at all miraculous in printing offices, the "no" was dropped out of a part of the ciliton, thus making the Company assert what they took special pains and type to deny.

No doubt the official abstract referred to took a large portion of the public by surprise. They knew, of course, that the GRAT SUNDAY NEWSPAPER had as immense circulation, but probably thought that its true proportions had been simplified by the proprietors. Exaggeration is so common in such cases, that the world expects it. It is now seen, however, that the statements emanating from the office of the SUNDAY MERCURY have been in strict accordance with the facts. If the CHURLATION OF ALL THE OTHER SUNDAY NUTSPAPIRES COMMINED FALLS FAR BELOW THAT OF THE SUNDAY NUTSPAPIRES COMMINED FALLS FAR BELOW THAT OF THE SUNDAY MUSCHEN ALONS, it is certainly no libed to say so when the proof is given with the sunconcement. If the SUNDAY MERCURY course of the SUNDAY MERCURY in the proof is given with the sunconcement. If the SUNDAY MERCURY have been the simulation of capital, persistent and intelligent enterprise and sheer hard work. There have been the simulated of triumph. They are mighty levers, and capable, like faith, of moving mountains.

Look at any issue of the SUNDAY MERCURY (that of to-morrow for instance). Stamped ment its DRy-six columns of matter will be seen the causes of its owney progress. The march of Telent and Capital, efficiently concluded, is like the march of Time itself! It cannot be arrested, or even impeded. For more than twenty years the SUNDAY MERCURY has been moving steadily onward and upward. It continues to move, and as the years roll on will advance from strength to strongth, supported and sustained by an intelligent, wide awake, and progressive community.

The close of 1963 finds it not only one of the best general and literary community.

The close of 1963 finds it not only one of the best general and literary nemspapers in the civilized world, but also a first-close commercial journal. He financial, market, and shapping reports are more full and perfect, and down to a later hour than those of any other paper published on

SPECIAL TELEGRAPH REPORTS embody the news from every point of the electric circle, foreign and domestic, almost up to the hour of dawn, and are VLLL TWO HOURS LATER THAN THOSE GIVEN BY THE REMAINDER OF THE PRESS. No termal in the country employs as large a staff of reporters as THE SUNDAY MERCURY, or so theroughly gleans the field of local intelligence. It is the vade mecuno of the politorian, the merchant, the as THE SUNDAY MERCURY, or so theroughly gleans the field of local intelligence. It is the vade mecun of the polithian, the nerolans, the mechanic, the lawyer, the artist, the polithian, the nerolans, the property of the sporting man-in short, of every class that goes to make up that grand unit, the people. Leading foreign and domestic authors contribute the best products of their peut to its columns, and as a "STORY PAPER!" it has a rival on either side of the Atlantic. Is it a matter of wonder that such a publication succeeds and dwarfs into insignificance the other peut at the artist of the such as the such a
